ASSOCIATION FOR APPLIED & CLINICAL SOCIOLOGY
Sociology at Work

using sociological knowledge to promote beneficial social change

2019 Conference Theme: The Profession of Sociological Practice

In the last quarter century, applied and clinical sociologists have marshalled significant momentum in “professionalizing” sociological practice with the establishment of the Association for Applied and Clinical Sociology (AACCS) and the Commission on the Accreditation of Programs in Applied and Clinical Sociology (CAPACS). In 2019, the clients and employers of applied, clinical, and engaged public sociologists will see, more than ever, how these talented professionals share a “calling” to serve the public in a bona fide profession – either as independent contractors or in sundry occupations in the academic and nonacademic workplace and professional marketplace.

AACCS Annual Membership Rates:

Standard	$90
Retired	$60
Student	$45
Organizational	$220
Lifetime	$1000
International	See webpage. We use ISA economic categories.

AACCS is the premier association dedicated to the application of sociological insights to create positive change in individuals, communities, and organizations. AACCS promotes scholarly, educational, programmatic, community and policy activities, and provides a common meeting ground and forum for individuals interested in the application of sociological knowledge.

Through our annual meeting, Journal of Applied Social Science, Sociology at Work newsletter, certification program, professional development workshops, and network of international sociologists and social scientists, AACCS provides value and opportunity to students, academics, and professionals seeking to know more about sociological practice and clinical sociology.
